One cold, winters day, two young children decided to skip down the icy road carefully to visit their friend, Claire. Before long, they arrived at her house which was in the city but on the way, they saw a poster for the circus! They researched the circus on the computer and found out there is a colourful cat who could perform cool tricks whilst wearing a cap!

When they arrived at the circus, the price to get in was 20 pence and they sat near to an old fence. As they waited for the show to start, they saw a camel wearing a coat and a cow eating cereal. They had to look twice when they saw the mice dressed up as police and 10 clowns squeezing into a little car!
