

Today I Am Grateful For...

Being grateful or practising gratitude helps us to recognise and fully experience when we are happy, content and joyful. This can help us to feel good and look after our mental health. Use the bubbles below to write and draw examples of the things that have made you feel grateful today.

